פרק ד׳ ● פסוקים ז׳ – כ׳

describe how שלמה reconfigured the tribal divisions into twelve new territories. Each district was required to collect taxes that would financially support שלמה's palace for one month of the year. The land divisions are not equal in terms of space. Presumably it was divided into twelve zones which had similar economic revenue, thus making it an equitable system.

פרק ד׳ • פסוקים ז׳ – כ׳

1	This new tribal division relates to tax collection in שלמה skingdom. In addition to the national draft in which men were sent to haul wood for the בית המקדש, the people also needed to pay high taxes to financially support the major construction projects in the kingdom. How do you think the people will react to this over time?
1	f you look closely at the new tribal divisions, it seems that שבט יהודה was left out, implying that they do not need to pay taxes. Can you present an explanation as to why יהודה may be exempt from this? In what other way do they service the nation?
